My Fellow SARGONITES:

Lend me your eyes. We have been out not quite a half a score of days and the ides of July are fast approaching. The time that has washed passed our hull has been sweet time and we shall all miss it and the ball scores, the race riots, the wars and the beers that we did not share with it but such is our cause that we forfeit those soft luxuries of life.

This past week has been a nifty one. For some of us it was brutal and for others it was merely the falling of newcut hair. Strange creatures have been met coming through hatches and far stranger are the week old beards that have blossomed out into scratchyness and an occassional pimple.

Sleep has been tiring and almost everyone has worn himself out and now we can look forward to the longness of the coming months. Time can be measured by the hair on our chins or perhaps by the fragrance of thine armpits. Remember unto you, cleanliness is next to Godliness and a fresh armpit makes shipmates happy.

The movies have been, well, just keen, what little times the projectors where in commission. The chow has been, well, keen, except for the sardine rolls, and the qualification has been blagh! We expect shortly to hear more often the tinkling of poker chips slicing the recirculated air, and speaking of recirculation, thank God/Demmer for it. Isn't it practically devine to have air to breathe. It is almost habit forming.

We extend our fondest fondness along with a tankful of appreciation to all of the contributors to this week's rag. If you fail to see your work herein it may because you are to highly classified for us, or perhaps just a weeny bit too rotten. Remember, we may not be a national publication but we still have some dignity left. Thanks also, to the generous reader who contributed the two pennies. We will always welcome monies and/or bribes. You may however want them back when you hear that a ten percent tax increase has just been passed back in the old US of A.

This weeks issue contains the regular trash plus a couple of new features that we hope you will sanction (it takes a lot of guts to say regular features on the second issue). We still need contribution though so limber up your thinking muscle, no not that one you little devil, and sock it to us. You will note that we have a Dear Scabby column now and I know that practically all of you have a problem you would like to get off/on your chest.

I guess that is about the extent of the ranting from RR this week. I leap off here and let you feast your eyes on this weeks issue. So long until next week and beware of the Avenger.

SKUPPE: SIDE OF THE NEWS - BUT DON'T YOU BELIEVE IT - UNLESS YOU WANT TO

A PENTAGON FLASH: The Presidents Committee on War on Poverty has just announced that they have disbanded the RAPE, SCREW and SHAFT projects and are concentrating all efforts on a new committee called SNATCH or (Special New Arrangements To Create Hiring). The SNATCHes are now seriously looking for CRANKS (Classes regarded As No Kind of Skill) to fill their openings. Personnel who are classified as HUNG (Heavily Unionized Nationally Grouped) will not be utilized with SNATCH because the SNATCH is not big enough to encompass HUNG personnel. The main objective of the program has been declared to place as many of the CRANKS into SNATCH positions as possible and to accept a STUD (Specialized Training Under Desired Skills) as required to fill in the gaps in SNATCH. Therefore if you fit into the HUNG category but are not a specialized CRANK or STUD you will not be accepted into the SNATCH.

Greek Shipping Magnate Aristotle ANDONAPOLIS today was sued by his pretty 15 year old wife. The wife charged him with Sodomy and lack of interest. She told reporters outside her bedroom that it wasn't the sodomy so much as it was the lack of interest that caused her to sue for divorce.

There were race riots today in Mexico City. Several of the athletes that were gathering there for the Summer Olympics started a fight over who would win the cross country marathon race.

A Gallop Pole showed that Jackie Gleason would easily beat the top Republicans and Democrats in a Presidential Election but that Gleason would loose to Jane Fonda if TV Debates were allowed.

Mrs Louisa LONG, a housewife in Manhattan today gave birth to tripiets while riding on the subway. Mrs LONG would have had quadrouplets but she had to get off at 82nd street and had the last baby on the corner there.

The two hundred boys locked in the girls dormintory at Vasser University for the last 8 days emerged today with grinning face. They had been demonstrating against something but forgot what. The four hundred and seventy five girls they had been holding hostage had nothing to say about how they had been treated by the crusading male students.

Here are some last minute ball scores: Philadelphia 12, Red Sox 37, South Dakota Skinnerbacks 138. Greg Slick shot a 69 today in the Milwaukee Open. Pancho Gonzales out paddled all contestants in the Latin Americans men singles today to walk away with first place. Young 8 year old Becky Bludle outblew 78 other girls today to take first place in the Bemidji, Minnesota Bugle Blowing Marathon. Becky has been blowing bugles for 4 1/2 years.

A Gorrila escaped from the Bronx Zoo today but was located about two hours later peacefully drinking in a Grenwich Village bar. The bartender, who had not known that his customer was a gorrila called the police when the inebriated gorrila refused to pay.

QUESTION: What Second Class Sonarman was overheard telling the Captain that he eats like a sparrow?

ANSWER The 500 pound canary.

Do you all realize that at 0230, W Time on the 25th of June LTJG LEE celebrated his longest period at sea, after three grueling years in the USN.

SOME SARGO DISCOVERIES:

SARGO is not a submarine - it is an ark.

SARGO is the only ship in the world with a canned vegetable garden.

QUAL NOTE: Where is the fresh vegetable produce locker?

YES DEAR HARTS, it's true we do have royalty aboard SARGO. You mean to say you never heard of the Duke of Walnut (Squirrly) or the Earl of Sandwich?

THE NOSECONERS DELUSION

*One dark night in the middle of the day
A bunch of noseconers decided to play
They decided to find an enemy ship
And try to do away with it.

They searched and searched, they were so busy
Going in circles and making themselves dizzy
Until one day there came a shout
"There goes one! Bring her about."

But in the ensuing confusion
All they fired at was an illusion
A little later on when they went back to check
And found that they'd missed, they said, "what the heck"

It's not that we're not very good
It's just that we misunderstood
When they said to standby to fire
We thought they said Choir

And there we were strumming, humming and singing
When we should have been plotting, sounding and pinging

DID YOU HEAR THE ONE ABOUT

This man that went down to a travel agency to buy an airplane ticket. The clerk was a very polite man who was actually just filling in at the travel agency. His real job was at the airport, checking baggage. The traveler bought his ticket and then when he went to the airport the next day to check in his baggage the same man was there. The man didn't say anything. The clerk got a promotion and was put on the line checking the passengers into the planes so naturally when the traveler went through the line to board his plane there was the same clerk. After he had boarded the plane and was seated the clerk brought the final passenger list out to the stewardess. The traveler just sat there watching the clerk talking with the stewardess. Suddenly he turned to the man next to him and said, "If that Son-of-a-Bitch goes into the cockpit I'm getting out of here!"

There was the Chief of the Boat on a certain nuclear submarine that tried to seduce a young 16 year old girl and was apprehended and charged with assault with a dead weapon.

A little girl was walking along in the park one day when she spotted this 8 month pregnant lady walking along. The little girl was fascinated by the woman's stomach and pointed to it and asked, "What is that?" "Why that's my own sweet baby.", replied the pregnant lady. "Do you love him?", asked the little girl. "Why of course I do replied the woman." "How come you ate him?" asked the little girl.

Then there was this husband who called his voluptuous wife on the phone one day to tell her he'd discovered this fantastic new position for making love; his wife was excited by the prospect of something fresh in their usually uninspired intimacies - and she pressed for more information. "In this new sexual position, we'll engage intercourse lying back to back," he said. "Back to back?!" she said. "I don't understand how that's possible?" "It's actually quite simple," he replied, "I'm bringing home another couple."

When a councilman unsuccessfully introduced an ordinance regulating the licensing of cats, its failure was questionably commemorated by the local newspaper who wrote that the councilman "met with little success in his efforts to have an anti-pussy ordinance introduced...."

CORN FROM THE COB:

BINGO will commence starting at 2000, Friday, 5 July 1968 and will be held every Friday thereafter. Games will be mostly for money although there may be surprises later on. More information to be promulgated by fliers which will be distributed sometimes during the week. We will play the game either using script or a logbook so no cash will be required until we reach port. If you are staying in that evening try to make it.....

Card tournaments are now being formulated. A list will be posted in the Crews Mess on Monday. All hands are invited to sign up for Cribbage and Pinchhole Tournaments. More information will also be promulgated later in the week. It looks like we will charge a dollar per man per tournament winner take all.

All hands are cordially reminded that the various staterooms in which you assume regular horizontal positions with frequent regularity are not designed to function as linen lockers, so get your crappy linen off the decks and store it where it belongs are we will be wrapping you up in it. This applies to the fifteen man stateroom in particular.

THE BELOW CARTOON wins the SKUPE's "Best Contribution of the Week" award hands down, or rather feet down, as the case may be. It was submitted by JBL and tells a rather awe inspiring story of well..... We'll let you decide. The title is:

ALTHOUGH IT DON'T TELL AS SWEET A STORY HERE IS ONE OF MY FAVORITES CALLED MOOOOOOSE

THE BRAIN TWISTER

The logic problem for last week was solved first by ETI HARRIS who used all 11 of his toes and a slide ruler. This prize was a half of a coffee cup which brother HARRIS now has.

The problem was also solved by KELL and DUNCAN but they didn't get it fast enough. Speed is of the essence. The answer to the problem actually is very simple.

Quentin, who raises orchids, is married (clue 3), though not to Louise (clue 2); since his wife collects seashells (clue 3), she is neither Nancy (clue 2) nor Martha (clue 4), and must be Ophelia. The other married man is Ronald (clue 1), who must be married to Louise and must be a bird watcher (clue 2). Louise and the two single men, Patrick and Stanley are stamp collectors (clue 1). The two single girls are Nancy, the bird-watcher (clue 2) and Martha, the amature painter (clue 4). Thus:

Louise collects stamps, husband Ronald is a hird-watcher
Ophelia collects shells, husband Quentin raises orchids
Martha is a painter, Nancy is a bird-watcher
Patrick and Stanley both collect stamps

SIMPLE RIGHT!

Brother HARRIS has this suggested Cryptogram that you can limber up your brains on for the Brain Twister on the following page. We havn't the faintest idea what it means so you will have to see HARRIS for the answer.

EQIM, JGM BUMYHMZ SD OBJ
BYL LTIQLY'J OTTDM OTZJP
XTIYLD SO GSD YBWM FRD
BYP QTYHMZ.

For those of you who don't know what a cryptogram is, in the cryptogram another letter is substituted for each letter of the alphabet. By noticing the frequency of certain letters (e,a,o, and n are the most often-used letters in English), and by looking for repeated patterns you should be able to break the code.

There are many different ways to define a word. For instance PINK could be a flower, a color, a condition of health, a political radical, or to cut cloth in a notched pattern, to mention only a few. How many different ways can you use the word below with out using a dictionary? I have thought of at least 11 ways.

If you didn't like last weeks Brain Twister you probably won't like this weeks even more. A prize to the winner though so lets see who can come up with the right answer first.

In a certain bar on Hotel street there once gathered a group of five different submarine sailors from five different countries. Now wanting to shoot the breeze and tell each other sea stories the five became friendly and figured out a way to talk to each other. You see they each spoke two different languages - but no two spoke the very same language two languages. English, French, German, Italian and Spanish were the languages involved - each being spoken by two and only two of the swabbies. From the following clues, name the two languages spoken by each sailor.

1. Joseph and Peter could talk together in Spanish.
2. Charles and William could converse in French.
3. Neither Charles nor Peter spoke English.
4. Although John spoke German and Joseph did not, they were able to speak to each other.
5. Joseph and William had no language in common but they found John could serve as an interpreter between them.

BY POPULAR REQUEST the Skupe has decided to start a "Lovelorn Colum". We are very fortunate to have aboard SARGO a well known professional Lovelorn Columnist who for obvious reasons does not want his real name published. He has therefore decided to use the name "Dear Scabby" merely because it becomes him. We have already received several letters addressed "Dear Skupe" which we have re-addressed to "Dear Scabby" for reply.

Dear Scabby:

I have a serious probelm that is beginning to worry me. Each night as I lay in my bunk a strange thing begins to happen. A very funny feeling comes over me and I start to think very evil thoughts. Am I going crazy?

Dear Scabby:

My problem is that I have this dear little parakeet at home that I left in the care of my wife. I am worried that she may not be taking the best of care of my little pet. How can I be sure that she is not mistreating it and that it is safe?

Signed: Worried

Dear Worried:

Have no fear. I am sure your wife is very capable of taking care of little birds and that your little bird is in good hands. DS

Dear Scabby:

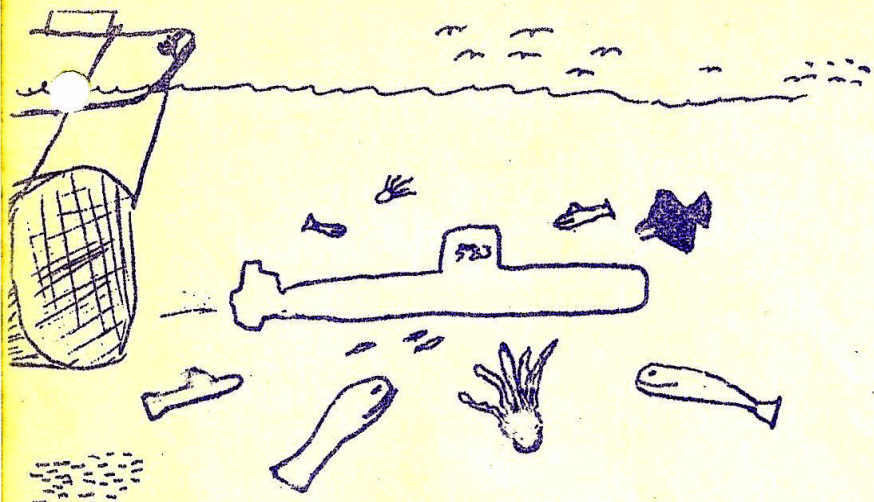

I am very tall and am constantly hitting my head on things. Do you have any advice for me?

CHINESE SECTION

There was this suspicious husband who just had to know if his wife was cheating on him or not so he went down to Hotel Street and hired this Chinese Detective, not unlike Charley Chan, to get the goods on his wife. The detective took the job assuring the man that he would get the goods of his unfaithful wife. After a time the detective called up the man to make his report. The husband asked him what he had found out and the Chinese man said "I no can be sure for certain." whereupon the American demanded an explanation. The detective said:

Well I follow them to hotel where they go inside
They take room on secon floor
I climb up tree to see
He kiss she, she kiss he
He undress she, she undress he
He play with she, she play with he
I play with me
I fall out of tree
No see
So solley.

A certain COB extends his apologies to a certain TN. Upon waiting in the head line for an extended period of time with crossed legs he was somewhat taken aback to notice this steward (initials DT) coming out of the head with a book tucked under his arm. The COB rather vigerously expounded on the sins of reading that type book in the head and accused the steward of all sorts of lacivious carrying ons. Imagine the COBs chagrin when he found out that the book was the Four Gospels.

Here's a Poem submitted by DEW

Here's to the men who go to sea,
On the gallant boat, five eighty-three
From dawn to dusk they prowl the deep
While those on the land are sound asleep
Clang, Clang, the MC sounds aloud
And wakes these slumbering men so proud

From bunks they crawl and what a sight
To battle tin cans in the night
And never once do they loose their cool
Could this be called "The ship of fools"

One night very late I heard a knock on the office door and when I opened it I just saw a vague glimpse of a blond headed kid running back aft. I'm not absolutely positive but it sure looked like a man we used to have aboard. When I looked into the SKUPE basket I found the following poem.

Ode to a grey haired COB

As I was lying in my bunk about 0800 the other day
The Chief of the Boat came up and told me that we was going to have field day.
But I pretended not to hear him and just lay there in my bunk
The next thing I know I'm on the deck and he shouting that I'm a punk.

Well he walked away muttering and swearing that he was getting out.
Heck I would have got up eventually, he didn't have to shout.
So I got me hook and went into the head and locked the door
I was reading very peacefully this book that was quite a bore.

I was in there for about an hour when I hear a noise outside
The COB says to a guy have you seen Stanley - that SOB's trying to hide
The guy tells him no that he hasn't seen me for a long time
And that I hadn't been by for at least an hour - because he been there in line

Well I figured that it was about time for me to split the scene
So I flushed the John and washed my hands until they were very clean
I got me a cup of coffee and then decided to go for a walk
So I went back to the stern room to find a friend and talk

I spent about an hour just hangin around and shooting the breeze
Then I sensed the COB was coming by a tightening in my knees
So I went to the engine room and went down to the lower level for a bit
And soon I hear the COB charge by he's having wuite a fit.

He talked to the upper level watch and I here him ask for me
But the watch don't know I down below so I know that I will stay free
After he left I made a run up forward and stopped in the ECM space
I played a game of cards or two because I knew I was safe.

Well time passed very quickly and I knew it was getting late
So I got into the chow line and soon we went in to eat
As I was having my third steak the COB walked into view
So I smiled at him and said "Hi COB - I've been looking all over for you!!"

FLICKER REVIEW 30-JUN to 6 JUL

- 30 JUN: The FLIM FLAM MAN is flimmy and flummy and highly recommended viewing for those appreciating George C. SCOTT and/or Sue LYON. It is an adult comedy-should keep you in stiches and scratches.
- 1 JUL: This one is such a bad manure-kicker that even the horses wear masks. If you long for the smell of the barn and yearn for the taste of gunpowder this is your kind of meat. WACO stars a bunch of real horse maneuvers and bad men.
- 2 JUL: If you think jazz is the king you will swing over THE BENNY GOODMAN STORY. Ole Steavearoon ALLEN, the funniest man in the world plays Benny and Donna REED is his thing. This is highly recommended viewing, even for those who have seen it ten times if for no other reason because of the music. No rockenrollers allowed in the theatre.
- 3 JUL: Rex (Noelsfather) HARRISON, Susan (every bodies body) HAYWARD, Cliff (PT) ROBINSON, and Caucupine (NLN), star in THE HONEY POT, which is listed as a Comedy. There is a bunch of killing and a lot of legs and even a few good belly laughs in this one that make it worth seeing.
- 4 JUL: Celebrate the 4th of July with THE INVISIBLE DR. MABUSE. Tarzan plays a secret agent hot on the trail of an international crime syndicate and you will enjoy watching Lex Barker (dressed in suits) beating his way through the civilized bush on the trail of the notorious Dr. Mabuse. It's not quite like fire crackers but what is nowadays?
- 5 JUL: This is a meller drammer starring Alex GUINNESS and Glynis JOHNS who plays a dancing instructor. Alex is a bum who finds a rich guys wallet and after the rich guy thinks he is a nice guy he sticks it to him in THE PROMOTER. Good watching if you like limeys.
- 6 JUL: U.S. Marshall Dana ANDREWS is peacefully riding along one day minding his own business when some guys plug him. He finds out that they went that-away and he catches one of them to hang. The other bad guys don't want him to hang their friend so they stir up the indians, the town and everybody and Dana gets Lon Chaney (not a monster in this one) to help him out After the showdown Dana and Jane Russell shackup in the JOHNNY RENO story.
- 7 JUL: THOSE MAGNIFICANT MEN IN THEIR FLYING MACHINES go up tedeupup and then come downdededown and bust their buttedebutbutts. About the only guy you would recognize who stars in this arial belly buster is Terry Thomas who cheats. The rest of them fly and fly and crash and smash. It's funny if the projector lasts.
