SKUPPE

CDR G. M. VAHSEN

NUMBER THREE

5 JULY 1968

Dear Readers:

WELL SHADES OF SEAVIEW, if another week ain't gone and slipped by, and here we are snug as bugs in a rug, cruising luxuriously about in a perfectly regulated (sometimes) temperature of approximately 68° (+ or - 15 or 20 °), in a dry (reasonably) comfortable $100,000,000, (give or take a million) yacht, eating the very best chow, sleeping in the most soft beds, etc. Who the hell ever had it so good? If we only had some booze and broads we'd never have to go back.

Yes indeedy, 14 of the 4 ons and 28 of the 8 offs have passed away and here we are again with a fresh SKUPE for your eyeing pleasure. This past spent week brought us only memories and a few more millimeters of hair on our chinnies. I've read someplace that the average man's hair grows about 1/64th of an inch per day on his face. How about that SAN NICOLAS? From the look of some of the Cro Magnonish kissers I've met coming through hatches I would venture to say that hair grows directly where the hell it wants to grow, probably in proportion to the inherited civility of the lawn which it is planted on.

Yesterday was the 4th of July and all across America the populace celebrated the anniversary of Britannia's loss by jamming themselves onto the freeways and running into each other with cars. Yes in celebration of our divorce from the mother country the cooks saw it befitting to make a huge, red, white and blue cake and I wore my red, white and blue skivy shorts and held a one man sleep-in.

Today is the deadline for signing up for the various card tournaments and in case you missed it "The Old Maid" tournament has by far walked away with the most participants. Sailors ain't what they used to be. It is only fair to add however, that most of the contestants are nukes. Well, deal fast - I'm loosing.

This weeks issue is dedicated to our own White Bereted skipper whose vague innage adorns this weeks cover. Our poem of the week is dedicated to the same gent (see The Number One Place). We also have the usual colabber plus some name games and a trivia page for the nostalgic old chiefs and other ancient personage aboard.

Tonight is Bingo along with the COB evening with cash prizes yet so all bingoites gather in the crews mess at about 2000.

In the same line next week will be Las Vegas night with big time gambling sponsored by the ship's rec committee and operated by Big Harry (known locally as Joe Harris). There will be numerous games of chance which you may care to wager your life savings or even as much as 3 quid on. I'll see you there....

I'm about out of poop for now so I will dog the hatch here. Keep everything running and we see you next week, ya hear?.....

LOGIC PROBLEM FOR THE WEEK - put on your thinking caps. A prize to the one who comes up with the answer first and an explanation of how he got it.

CAMPAIGN IN PLAINVILLE

One of the least well known elections taking place this year is the contest for the three commissioner offices in the town of Plainville, where this trio of elected officials govern the town for a two-year period. This year, there are seven announced candidates; all three incumbent administrators, the gentlemen who has served as the town clerk under the present administration, the principal of the local high school, a grocer who maintains that he can best represent the small businessman, and a lawyer who has accused all of the other candidates of insufficient knowledge and the incumbents of a failure to maintain order. The clues below should clarify the slate for you. Give each candidates full name, present position or occupation.

1. Both Oscar and Goodfellow are among the incumbents seeking re-election.
2. At the first of a series of debates, Larry - one of the men challenging the incumbents - hardly defeated both Karl and Hardy.
3. Hardy, seconded by both John and the grocer has accused Cope - who moved to Plainville just last month of being a carpetbagger.
4. Bulwark and the town clerk are the only bachelors among the candidates.
5. The top issue in the campaign is taxes, and all the candidates have been forced to take a stand: Eagle and Karl believe higher taxes are needed; Larry and Farewell demand lower ones; Ned, Downgrade, and the school principal are for maintaining the present rates.
6. On the issue of revising the town charter, the candidates have split differently; all the incumbents are against revision; Paul and the lawyer are for it; Eagle and the grocer decline to take a position.
7. The grocer's wife has been active in the campaign, as have the wives of the incumbents.
8. Paul and Downgrade - who is Mike's son-in-law- have been next-door neighbors for five years, remaining good friends despite their present political rivalry.

FILLERS

Oh poppy flower
The bee tastes your kiss no more
You have gone to pot

Greedy Eskimo
Winters gone, but you have paid
For your night of love

Ah So Beaver
You industrious fool
Your lover calls, but you say
Not by a dam site

Oh brave salmon
leaping falls for love...
We not call you Chicken of the Sea

ANNOUNCEMENT: Will SN Kenneth CROPPER
please stop by the ship's office and pick up his mail?

TWISTER TALK

QM3 Eric WALKER solved last weeks Brain Twister and beat a couple of other entries by a hair. Several people had the puzzle figured out wrong, but anyway the prize, a red headed whacamacallit doll, has been presented to Walker. The answer to last week twister is below.

Joseph - Spanish English
Peter - Spanish Italian
Charles - French Italian
William - French German
John - German English

If you want to know how to figure it out see Walker. It is too complicated for us to explain here.

PLANE TALK

Our definitions for PLANE are. 1. Tree; 2. Flat, level, even surface; 3. Level of existence; 4. Aircraft or surfaces thereof; 5. To soar into the air or fly; 6. Smoothing tool; 7. Make level, smooth, even; 8. Inclined surface, as a coal-mine railroad track, 9. level of depth; 10. 2-dimensional surface, as in mathematics; 11. Having no elevations or depressions

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO TELL THE TRUIES FROM THE FALSIES? TRY YOUR LUCK BELOW.

1. Alfred Nobel invented dynamite.
2. Winter begins December the 15th.
3. A bibliophile is a Bible expert.
4. Lake Erie is the longest of the Great Lakes.
5. Harry S. Truman's middle initial stands for Samuel.
6. Ten average eggs weigh a pound.
7. The sun is a star.
8. Nome is the capital of Alaska.
9. President Franklin Pierce was a bachelor.
10. Mothers Day is the second Sunday in May.

Still don't know how to tell the truiies from the falsies?

Well, the falsies taste like rubber

NAME GAME - Some SARGO names can be interesting.....

We not only have a SB, we have a BBB
How about a first name like Canuto with NMW. Just call me Canoe
We can have a BALL with Matthew BALL
We've got Presidents ADAMS, PIERCE, KENNEDY and who else?
Or how about a SAVAGE YOUNG BIRD named BALL went INUNCAN in a glass of CHAMPAGNE and got drunk on his ASH.

SKUPEY SIDE OF THE NEWS

Blackville Alabama..... Today "Whitey" Black, a 26 year old White student at Black University stated that he was a practicing minister of the Black Students for an all White World. Black was immediately disrolled from Black which is an all white school. When Black was asked to comment he replied that he would fight for the right to be white in Black and even though he had been de-whited he would soon be back to Black.....

Fifty rioting kindergarden students in Bemidji, Minnesota still held out against the school faculty members and local National Guard units in what has been described as the bloodiest riots ever to hit the sleepy town. The students, mostly 4 and 5 year olders are protesting vigorously against what they term "Gestapoish Tactics" being used by the school administrators; in particular the "Anti-thumb Sucking and the No Crap Shooting in Class" laws which have been established by the board of trustees at the kindergarden.....

Myrtle Smultz, a 385 pound housewife in Humberdink, Georgia today gave birth to a 32 pound baby boy. Mrs. Smultz who had not know she was pregnant until the baby arrived was asked to comment. "Well it is better than dieting!", was all she had to say.....

Cape Kennedy.... Scientists at the Cape today announced that they had successfully retrieved the body of "Drifty", the first chimpanzee to live for over three years in an orbiting space satellite. Drifty had been lifted aloft atop an Atlas 14 G Rocket almost three years ago to date. Along with Drifty the scientist sent forty crates of bananas, some record albums and a set of Encyclopedia Britanicas. They revealed that during his tenure in space Drifty had learned to read and write. The scientist refused to say what was in the note that Drifty left them....

Transilvania..... Doctor Ivan Unoitski revealed that he had successfully transplanted the sexual organs of a bull elephant onto a male collie today. The collie whose name is Herby seems very satisfied and has been passing his time watering Doctor Unoitski's Apple Orchard.....

President Johnson announced today that his 4.7% scheduled Tax Increase has been waived in favor of the 5.7% surcharge tax deduction which replaced the 9.8% decreased Federal Excise deduction and is now combined with the proposed gasoline hike and FICA increase. Thus he stated, it would be unnecessary to enforce the mandatory September prorated 14.2% State and local tax increase that replaced the recommended Senate Approved 19.387% federal law and wages increase for civilian and blue collar workers.

Sports..... Some scores. Ptsbrg 9, Boston 41; Sarratoga Rockets 4, New York Steeple Chasers 7..... Phill Thrill today rode his motorcycle..... Dennis Blob was signed up by the Saint Louis Cardinals.... Rookie Frank Crank shot fourteen geese in the Gasper Geese Open today..... San Quentin took a firm 3rd place in the Prison League Tiddly Winks East Coast league.. Farmer Jaybird Kennedy from Bogalusa, Louisiana won the Blue Ribbon in the Bogalusa County Fair by producing a 742% Proof 3 day old corn liquer that can also be used for aviation gasoline.....

DEAR SCABBY:

I have a problem. Someone constanly uses the toilet in the Stern Room as if it where a urinal. Their aim is terrible and they never lift the seat. How can I instill a little couth on them. Wet Cheeks

Dear Wet Cheeks:

I agree that the PP artist are lacking in couth. I would recommend that you install a soft pink lace doiley around the lid and perhaps then the mysterious untoilet trained chaps will be tempted to sit down and surely their aim would be accurate enough while sitting.

DEAR SCABBY:

Last week I wrote you about a hell tapper. You advised me to break his arm. His arm is already broke. Now what should I do? Watchstander.

Dear Watchstander.

How about shaving his head?

DEAR SCABBY:

What is the story on you. Are you for real. Curious

Dear Curious:

That is none of your damm business.

DEAR SCABBY:

I have a problem. I am a nuke and I am due to be getting out of the Navy very soon. My problem is that I want to ship over, but I blabbed my big mouth off so much about how I was getting out that now I am afraid that the guys will laugh at me if I ship. How to save face? Short timer.

Dear Short Timer.

As I see it your problem is not getting out, or shipping over, or being laughed at. Your problem is being a nuke.

DEAR SCABBY:

How can I get out of the Navy quickly without waiting until my time is up. I would do anything to get out because I have many things to do and places to go.
Civialian at Heart

Dear Civy:

Go AWOL!

DEAR SCABBY:

I am an officer and my problem is that I am younger than many of the men that work for me. How can I look older.
A LTJG

Dear LTJG:

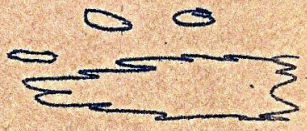

Why don't you shave your head in front. Maybe that would make you look older.

DEAR SCABBY:

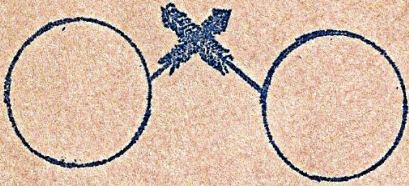

Would you consider going out with me sometime? HFYB

Dear HFYB:

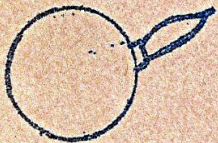

Maybe. What do you have to offer?

The Number One Place

It has been a long hard day and the midwatch is just coming on
A tired captain goes into his stateroom all alone
He's been up all day making decisions for his ship
For he alone's responsible for the safety during each trip

He climbs into his bed after a hard and tiring day
He's done his best and made each decision in the fairest way
As he gets into his bunk and closes his tired eyes
Sleep doesn't come easy, no matter how hard he tries

And finally after a struggle sleep comes to him at last
And then he is suddenly awakened by a loud XIJ blast
It's the OOD who tells him that he thinks he saw a light
The captain thanks him politely and wishes him a good night

And just as he drifts off again the XIJ barks loud and clear
It's the OOD again reporting the light is gone and that no contacts are near
"Oh very well" says the captain and then he lays down once more
And the ship is running smoothly and soon the captain begins to snore

An hour or so later a messenger bangs loudly on the door
And the captain says "come in" like he's always done before
The messenger stutters out a message that is very unclear
Something about the engines and in the CO's heart grows fear

He picks up the XIJ again and rings up the engineer
And the engineer answers and he gets the message clear
It was only something minor but still the captain had to know
So he tells the messenger very politely that he can go

And so it goes consistently throughout the whole night long
A contact, or a piece of equipment that has suddenly gone wrong
But still the captain doesn't complain or ever show alarm
Because it's his job to know what's right and keep us safe from harm

At dawn he rises early and prepares to meet the day
He feels as tired as you or I but a complaint he'd never say
Completely dressed and ready with a clean and close shaved face
He goes into the wardroom and sits at the number one place

As he sips his morning coffee he looks so alert and wise
Not even his own officers can see the tiredness in his eyes
How many of them I wonder, will ever be so wise
As the CO that we all know with the sparkle in his eyes.....

HAVE YOU HEARD?

That a certain STC actually posed for some "Uncle Wants You" recruiting posters? I have heard that he also wore a black mask and socks for some french art movies but I don't believe it.

SOME FAMOUS SARGO SAYINGS

"Damn the torpedoes - I'm going to blow the sanitary tank" by J.B. SHELTON

"I have not yet begun to sleep" by B. HUCKABEE

CUTTING UP CUTLIP SECTION or Dickering with the Doc

Someone has proposed that we have a "Hide the Film Badge" contest. On the day before Doc changes them everyone hides their film badge someplace on board SARGO. Then the doc goes around and finds them. Everyone he finds he gets a point. If he losen't get a hundred points we get to shave his head and if he gets a hundred points he gets to shave our heads, if he can.

Mirror Mirror on the Wall

Who is the cleanest body of them all

Did you know that the doc really dosen't know all the words to "From the Halls of Montezum". Thats OK he shed some real tears while he watched the "Flying Leathernecks".

Also, for your information Historians at the Aztec pyramids in Mexico have finally deciphered the last words of the famous emperor Montezuma, found inscribed upon an ancient scroll: "Will someone tell those dammed Marines to stop singing in the halls?"

Who is the cleanest body? The man who stands tall in the small shower stall?

Did you ever notice how Chief CUTLIP has the shiniest collar devices on board the ship? Thats because he washes them in the washing machine with his pupe suit.

The missionary stood before the natives. He didn't know whether they were going to eat him or not. He began to talk. When he said how he had come over to be their friend the natives looked quizzically at each other and then a sudden unanimous cheer of "Huzanga!" came from the croud. The missionary went on and told them about how he and his wife wanted to live there on the island with them in peace. Another cry of "Huzanga!" rang out from the natives. On and on went the missionary with his speech, telling the native how moved he was and how wonderful it was to be accepted so warmly and after each pause the cry of "Huzanga!" filled the air. After his speech was over the missionary was walking around with the native chief. The missionary noticed that the native's had an awful lot of cattle and he said to the chief, "You certainly have a lot of beautiful cows here." The native chief said, "Yes we do but you have to be awful careful not to step in the huzanga."

THE SARGO THEATRE BENEATH THE SEA PRESENTS

- MON 8 JUL: Nice Guy Stockwell and Doug (The Virginian) McClure star in a desert blood and guts story called BEAU GESTE and the Lord only knows what that means. Telly Savalas plays a sadistic sergeant; Leo Gordon plays a former cossak; Malachi Thorne plays a cunning spaniard; Robert Wolders plays a Frenchman and some cat with the unbelievable name of X Brands plays a murderous Pole.
- TUE 9 JUL: Elvis the Pelvis McAVY Presley plays a Navy frogman who finds a buried treasure after he is discharged from the Navy and his Go-Go girl friend Dodie Marshall helps him in EASY COME, EASY GO and I am going just to see Elvis sing under water if nothing else.
- WED 10 JUL: SPECIAL DELIVERY is listed as a comedy starring Joseph Cotton, (The Excedrin Man) and Eva Bartok (?), who plays a nurse. There is some spies, a mysterious birthmark and some kissing.
- THU 11 JUL: Yeoooo Ha Ha Ha ha ha and other such scary noises. Hansjorg Felmy stars in the MAD EXECUTIONERS and with a name like that it is not surprising. Believe it or not the melodrammer takes place in foggy old London and stars the Scotland Yard brigade, an insane scientist and Maria Perschy who plays the sweet young thing.
- FRI 12 JUL: Practically everybody who ever rode a horse or didn't know that Jimmy Stewart is the MAN FROM LARAMIE, and that the MFL is a shoot em up, and a good one. Cathy O'Donnell plays a broad who owns a small country store and after Jimmy is roped, dragged, beat, slugged, had his wagons burned, his mules shot, and is thoroughly teed off at the bad men, sweet Cathy gives him a job mess cooking. There's the usual "Guns to the Apaches" seller and other assorted cliff hanger scenes that will chill you to the ends of your boot straps.
- SAT 13 JUL: This ridiculous program is classified as a Novelty, which it certainly is. Don Ameche, a great actor, blabs through 1206 feet of 16 MM RINGS AROUND THE WORLD which is the personal experiences of writer John Shawcross. In historical fashion he delves into the backgrounds of circuses and this should make interesting viewing if you like lions and tigers and clowns and the thrill of the big top. Also has a short that will bore even a nuke poo.
- SUN 14 JUL: Darren McGavin (Mickey Spillane and Riverboat) and Maria Perschy (I don't know who she is but she must be working a lot - see 11 JUL review) star in an exciting adventure drama called RIDE THE HIGH WIND. Darren plays Bush Pilot Mike Gregory who flying in the desert out of Johannesburg North Africa is forced to crash land because of engine trouble. He does the Humphry Bogart bit out into the blazing desert sun and is soon discovered by a couple of old copper miners. Then a lot of exciting things begin to happen and you will just have to see it to believe it.
