1. NOTE FROM THE COMMANDING OFFICER

Today marks the last day that Chief John Ball will serve in SARGO. Chief BALL has spent the past seven years in SARGO - reporting as a Second Class Engineman and leaving as a Chief Petty Officer. Throughout his tour of duty on board his contributions to the ship, to his division, and to hundreds of his shipmates has been truly outstanding. His ability and conscientious approach to his work have set an unparalleled example for his shipmates and won their respect. John Ball is a true professional. All of us can learn from the example he has set and apply it both in our time in the Navy and afterwards. In recognition of his outstanding performance, Chief Ball is being recommended to Commander Third Fleet for an Award for his contributions to SARGO and the Navy over the last seven year period. For the Command, I wish to express my gratitude and admiration to Chief Ball, and to wish him Fair Winds, Following Seas, Aloha, and Mahalo.
